From the Paris Gazette, dated Oct. 7.

Naples, September 12.

THE Differences between the Clergy and the Secular Power, touching the Eccleſiaſtical Immunity and the Proceedings of Cardinal Pignatelli againſt the Judges of the Vicariat and the Officers of the Collateral, continue in the ſame Condition, becauſe (as 'tis commonly reported) both Sides expect Anſwers from the Court of Vienna to Letters which have been written thither about theſe Affairs. In the mean time there has been a Conference between the Pope's Nuncio and Signior Argento Regent of the Vicariat, to endeavour to effect an Accomodation. The Nuncio propoſed that Abſolution ſhould be granted to the Officers of the Vicariat, but that they ſhould firſt deſire it, by a Petition under their Hands; that the Archbiſhop's Officers who were ſeized and expelled the Kingdom, for having drawn up, ſigned, fulminated, or affixed the Monitories, ſhould be recalled: That the Woman who made a Trade of Poyſoning, ſhould be brought back to the Place dependant on the Church of St. Magdalene whence ſhe was taken by Order of the Magiſtrates; that then the Archbiſhop's Officers ſhould go and take her into Cuſtody, make out Proceſs againſt her, and condemn her to perpetual Impriſonment: The Regent of the Vicariat rejected all theſe Propoſitions, remonſtrating that their Conſequences were very dangerous to the publick Safety, and even that according to the Opinion of divers Learned in the Cannon-Law, the Immunity cannot have Place with reſpect to Perſons guilty of ſuch enormous Crimes, and that it was evident from many Examples that the moſt heinous Malefactors had eſcaped Juſtice by Means of the Conteſts raiſed by the Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction. In concluſion, the Nuncio perſiſting in what he had propoſed, the Regent anſwered he would make Report of all to the Viceroy, and did ſo accordingly. The Collateral has ſince been extraordinarily aſſembled, in which it was reſolved to take the whole Matter into Deliberation anew, and to ſend the Reſult to the Court of Vienna. Mean while Count Daun has cauſed the Revenues which Cardinal Pignatelli had out of the Cuſtoms, to be ſeized in Sequeſtration, as alſo the temporal Income of his Benefices, and his patrimonial Eſtate. By the Count's Order the Woman who had prepared and vended the Liquor called Tufania has been judicially examined, and ſhe has diſcovered ſeveral Accomplices who have been ſeized, among them a Woman who prepared a Powder, that in operating would cauſe a ſtoppage of Urine, for which there was no Remedy.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Oct. 14.

Naples, Sept. 19. Several Conferences more have been held between the Nuncio and the Regent Argento deputed by the Tribunals, to treat of accomodating the Conteſts occaſioned by the Poyſoners: But the Negociation is broke off, neither of them being able to agree to the principal Propoſitions made on either Side. Since that, the Woman who prepared Poyſon having promiſed to detect her Accomplices, and thoſe to whom ſhe had vended it, if her Life were given her, ſhe has named a great Number, many of whom are ſeized. Mean while divers conſiderable Perſons being involved in this Buſineſs, Count Daun has thought fit to eſtabliſh a Junto or Council conſiſting of four principal Officers, to take Cognizance of theſe Crimes, that the Proceeding may be the more ſecret.

Rome, Sept. 23. The Affair of the Excommunications at Naples ſtands as it did, eſpecially ſince it was known by Letters from the Nuncio, that the Deputy of the Vicariat with whom he had had ſeveral Conferences, to find out ſome Expedients, in order to terminate thoſe Conteſts amicably, had rejected all the Propoſitions which had been offered to him, particularly that relating to the Reparation claimed by Cardinal Pignatelli, becauſe the Soldiers who carried off his grand Vicar and other Officers paſſed through a Church to take them. The ſaid Deputy had likewiſe refuſed to promiſe that the Judges and thoſe who executed the Orders of the Collateral Council, ſhould aſk Abſolution from the Cenſures fulminated againſt them, arguing that it ought to be granted them without their aſking, and that in receiving it they would give ſufficient Proof of their Submiſſion, whereas if the Proceedings of the Eccleſiaſticks in this Affair ſhould be ſtrictly examined, it might be proved that they were null and unjuſt. But another Difficulty is riſen; for Count Daun having required Cardinal Urſini, Archbiſhop of Benevento, to deliver into the Hands of Juſtice divers Banditi who have retired into that Town, and there taken Shelter in ſeveral Places of Immunity, the Cardinal has refuſed it.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 17.

Berlin, Oct. 7. The King of Pruſſia arriving laſt Tueſday at Swed, ſent an Expreſs for 2 of his Miniſters, viz. M. Ilgen and Printz to repair to him; whereupon they went thither the next Day, as did alſo Prince Menzikof. A Conference was held, in which it was unanimouſly reſolved, that his Majeſty ſhould take in Sequeſtration the Town of Stetin, on Condition that 2 Swediſh Battallions ſhould remain in it and take an Oath of Fidelity to the Duke Adminiſtrator of Holſtein-Gottorp. Immediately his Majeſty gave Order for 3 of his Battallions to march into Garriſon in that Place, which they are to enter to Day; and we are told his Majeſty himſelf is gone from Swed, to lead in his ſaid Troops in Perſon. We know not yet for certain, how long the forementioned 2 Battallions of Swedes are to ſtay there, nor what is to be done with Stralſund and Wiſmar: But 'tis talked thoſe 2 Places will likewiſe be delivered up in Sequeſtration to the King of Pruſſia, provided 500000 Crowns be paid to the Muſcovites, who in that Caſe will quit Pomerania, to go where Occaſion may require.

From the Camp before Stetin, Oct. 3. The 2 Swediſh Battallions that remain in the Town, took an Oath of Fidelity the 1ſt Inſtant to the Governour and the Burghers: And we are aſſured, that the reſt of the Swediſh Garriſon conſiſting of 3500 Men who marched out of the Town the ſame Day, and were cantoned in divers neighbouring Villages, are to be conducted towards Stralſund, under a good Guard. 'Tis the Talk, that all Pomerania will be put in Sequeſtration into the Hands of the King of Pruſſia, on Condition that there be kept in each Place 3 Battallions of Pruſſians, and 2 other Battallions in the Pay of the Duke Adminiſtrator of Holſtein-Gottorp. A ſufficient Guarantie is to be given, that the Swediſh Troops which are encamped near Stralſund, ſhall not make Irruptions into the Territories of any Prince of Germany in Alliance with the Czar of Muſcovy; but that they ſhall be tranſported into Sweden; and that Pomerania ſhall pay 500000 Crowns to his Czarian Majeſty before his Troops quit that Province.

From the Hague Courant, dated Oct. 18.

Stetin, Oct. 8. We are informed, that the 1600 Men of our Garriſon who are taken into the Pay of Holſtein-Gottorp, are to continue here, till the Holſtein Troops which are expected from Brabant, can come to relieve them; when they are to be diſcharged from their Oath, and take their March to Stralſund, as the other Swediſh Troops which marched out a few Days ago have done. The ſaid Houſe have already paid to the Muſcovites 300000 Rixdollars, as their Part of what was promiſed them for their Trouble and Expence in the Siege. Yeſterday 1600 Pruſſians came in here, and to Day the King of Pruſſia with Prince Menzikof and ſeveral other Miniſters arrived here. The Agreement being absolutely settled, the Russian Army began to break up from before this Place to Day, and will put themselves on the March to Morrow.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 17.

Utrecht, Oct. 14. The Bishop of London, first Plenipotentiary of the Queen of Great Britain, received by the last Packet-Boat Letters from her Majesty, by which he is recalled. The Earl of Strafford, his Collegue, has likewise received Order, to put the last Hand by himself to the Treaty of Commerce between Great-Britain and Spain; But having at the same Time received Advice of the Sickness of his Countess's Grandmother, his Excellency has by a Letter besought her Britannick Majesty, to be pleased to grant him Leave to go over to England without Delay; so that he stays only for her Majesty's Answer, to go and imbark at the Brill; and his Excellency went away last Thursday to the Hague, having left to the Bishop of London his Collegue, the Care of Signing the Treaty abovementioned, which wants nothing but to be Signed.
